AIMS

This EC belongs to the UE: HUMANITIES

It contributes to the development of the following transversal skills valued by INSA:

CT7: Work in an international, intercultural context

7.1 Communicate in a foreign language

7.2 Decode cultural references in speech, attitudes and behaviors.

7.3 Put one's own values, beliefs and behaviors into a cultural perspective.

by allowing the student-engineer to develop and be evaluated on the following learning outcomes:

THE STUDENT CAN:

--talk about themselves and their country

--talk about a social phenomenon OR

--talk about a cultural phenomenon OR

--talk about a scientific phenomenon OR

--have a conversation appropriate to the context; communicate in an appropriate manner

--give an oral presentation AND/OR write clear expository prose

--learn and apply usage and vocabulary discovered in class

--understand and apply diverse linguistic and social codes

By the end of the semester, the student will be able to...

- Communicate and interact in one or more foreign languages, both orally and in writing, adapting to the context and the interlocutors, from the transmission of simple information to mediation in more complex communication situations. (Communication skills)

- Identify, understand, and utilize the cultural codes associated with their own language and those of their interlocutors in order to adopt appropriate behavior and communication in diverse intercultural contexts. (Intercultural skills)

- Produce written or oral messages in their native language or in the target language. (Linguistic skills)

CONTENT

The TANDEM modules offer linguistic and cultural exchanges between French-speaking students and German-speaking, English-speaking, Spanish-speaking and Portuguese-speaking students in each of the languages.

The INTERCOMPREHENSION module is all about learning to understand native speakers of a Romance language different to one's own. Each student speaks their native language and learns to understand the others.

The work is carried out by organizing a debate around a controversial subject, by writing a story, by presenting an element belonging to the specific culture, by playing board games ... in short, by interacting permanently and in any form possible with other students fluent in the different working languages.

Of course, oral comprehension is also at the heart of this course. It is a living, authentic learning in the spirit of sharing. Everyone has something to learn and to pass on.
